

Visit the Barsebäck power plant

The visits are free of charge - We provide coffee, tea and snacks
The duration of a visit is 2 hours and 30 minutes

What is Barsebäck?

Barsebäckverket is a closed down nuclear power plant that produced electrical power between the years 1975 and 2005. The plant was closed down due to political reasons and is now used as an educational facility for workers in other power plants. Since the fuel has long since been removed it is a safe place to learn about nuclear power and how to access, control and maintain it. Until the plant is decommissioned in 2020 we study how decommissioning has been done at other nuclear power facilities in the world to learn the safest and most effective procedure.

What will you see here?

We start every visit in our Info-centre. Here you can watch films about energy production or see the story of Barsebäck in a picture slideshow. We have an expo detailing the decommissioning of nuclear power plants, other important things that relate to nuclear power and also some thoughts about future power sources.

Guided tour

At Barsebäckverket we offer the unique possibility to see parts of a nuclear power plant up close in a way that is impossible at a running plant. During our tour you get to see the most important parts: the reactor hall, the turbines and the condenser.

Not yet 14 years old?

You have to be at least 14 years old in order to join the tour. For our younger visitors we can offer activities in the Info-centre and a tour of the control room. On our walk through the lot you get to see the buildings up close.

Important information

- We need to know the date of birth and passport number of every person in the group before your visit
- Everybody must be able to show a valid passport
- Influence of alcohol or narcotics is prohibited during the visit
- Taking pictures is allowed only if you apply for permission in advance
- Anybody receiving medical treatment with radioactive elements will regrettably not be able to join the tour
- The tour requires normal health and full mobility. If your mobility is restricted in any manner - please contact us prior to your visit to make sure that it is possible for you to join the tour
- Please tell us if somebody is allergic
- Inside the plant we have to use shoe covers. If you use high-heeled shoes or small sandals it might be difficult to walk with the shoe covers on
